Journal of Reconstructive Microsurgery

Editor-In-Chief(s):

Bernard T. Lee, Boston

ISSN: 0743-684X

Volume: 39

Issues Per Year: 9

The Journal of Reconstructive Microsurgery is a peer-reviewed, indexed journal that provides an international forum for the publication of articles focusing on reconstructive microsurgery and complex reconstructive surgery. The journal was originally established in 1984 for the microsurgical community to publish and share academic papers.

The Journal of Reconstructive Microsurgery provides the latest in original research spanning basic laboratory, translational, and clinical investigations. Review papers cover current topics in complex reconstruction and microsurgery. In addition, special sections discuss new technologies, innovations, materials, and significant problem cases.

The journal welcomes controversial topics, editorial comments, book reviews, and letters to the Editor, in order to complete the balanced spectrum of information available in the Journal of Reconstructive Microsurgery. All articles undergo stringent peer review by international experts in the specialty.

Journal of Hand and Microsurgery

Official Publication of Society of Indian Hand and Microsurgeons

Editor-In-Chief(s):

J. Terrence Jose Jerome

ISSN: 0974-3227

Volume: 15

Issues Per Year: 4

Journal of Hand and Microsurgery (JHAM) is the official journal of the Society of Indian Hand and Microsurgeons. JHAM's mission is to advance the medical science and practice of hand and reconstructive microsurgery through education, research and advocacy on behalf of patients and practitioners.

The journal welcomes submissions from authors across the world. Original and review articles, point of technique articles, and case reports related to the understanding of diseases, diagnosis, and management of the upper extremity disorders, brachial plexus injuries, congenital hand problems, hand trauma, fractures, tumors, burns and reconstructive microsurgery would be considered for publication. The journal rigorously follows double-blinded peer review of the submitted articles and the selection of the articles is based on the reviewer's evaluation of the academic merit of the presented clinical content.
